

Between Piano, Home Studio, and Paintbrush

Lisa Maria is a pianist, singer, and producer from the rural south of Germany. A chaotic notebook filled with fleeting lyrical ideas and quiet evenings at the piano form the foundation of her poetic and atmospheric sound. Her music project is deeply personal and handmade: in her small home studio she produces her songs herself, and as the release approaches she pulls her painting supplies from the shelf to create the artwork.

With her debut album Under Water, Lisa Maria positions herself as a distinctive voice in the cinematic alternative pop. The album integrates themes of mental health, self-reflection, and personal growth with musical influences from classical and jazz. For the production she received local funding* and was included in the official recommendation list of the local cultural program.

For Lisa Maria, music has always been a warm and comforting escape. A place she now shares with several thousand listeners around the world.

* Micro-funding granted by the Popbüro Bodensee–Oberschwaben, funded by the RegioNet program of the Popakademie Baden-Württemberg.
